The current service provided does not censor access to material on the internet. The Library regards current filtering software as inaccurate and unreliable. These software packages do not take into account the wide range of clients who use the Internet in a public Library. The use of such software may lead to both adults and children missing out on vital information. Literature on this issue is available from the State Library of Queensland's website (<http://www.slq.qld.gov.au/>)

The Library seeks to address the concerns of parents and the community by placing internet computers in full public view. The Library cannot guarantee the quality of information on the Internet. It is the responsibility of the patron to determine the validity, quality and relevancy of the information accessed. The Library cannot ensure access to sites on the internet, waiting times may be long and connections to all sites cannot be guaranteed.

The following services may be accessed from the Library internet service:

- World Wide Web pages;
- Library catalogues;
- Usenet news
- Electronic journals and texts;
- Discussion lists;
- Internet relay chat;
- Email (where patrons know the internet address of their account, or through free services such as "Hotmail"). Library staff may be able to provide information on how to access email accounts. Please ask staff for assistance.

McKinlay Shire Libraries will not be held responsible for inadvertent exposure by minors or adults to potentially offensive material accessed by internet users on Library equipment. The Library is not and will not be held responsible for what a minor or adult may locate on the Internet. As with other library materials, restriction of a minor's access to information on the Internet is the responsibility of the parent or guardian.

Public Conduct

Any equipment malfunction should be reported to Library staff immediately. Patrons should not attempt to "repair" hardware or software problems. Patrons may not, under any circumstances, use their own personal software on Library computers or attach equipment to the Library's hardware. Unacceptable conduct may lead to the suspension of Library privileges. Unacceptable behaviour includes:-

- Destruction of or damage to Council equipment or software;
- Licence infringement;
- Attempting to modify or gain access to files, passwords or data belonging to others;
- Display of offensive or inappropriate material;
- Unauthorised monitoring of electrical communications; and,
- Intentional unauthorised infringement of copyright.

If a decision is made to suspend Library internet privileges, notice will be given in writing to the patron or their parent/guardian/carer informing of the suspension. Library staff members reserve the right to eject patrons engaged in unacceptable conduct.

Copyright

Much of the material, including software, available is protected by copyright. Patrons are personally responsible for complying with all applicable laws governing copyright materials. A copyright owner
